Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Flanders.

a Reinforcement into Italy, and for this Purpose, Regiments of Foot, and three of Horse and Dragoon, are named for that Service. We go on with our surprizingly; for since the Queen has given doubly Money, it is scarce credible what Numbers to enlist. We hope to be able to complete, before appointed Time, both the German Regiments and Battalions. Baron Erthal, the Elector of Mentz's Minister, is pretty well recovered from his late Indisposition and has assisted at two grand Conferences that have been held in relation to the present Conjunction of Affairs at which it was supposed he offered certain Terms of Accommodation. Yet these, we apprehend, were no agreeable to our Court than those which went before, since our military Preparations are carried on with as great, or greater Vigour than ever.

pishen, Jan. 21. M. Maillebois is here, and contito live in a very splendid Manner. He keeps an Table, to which every Body is welcome; and his eration, Politeness, and kind Usage to every Body, rhaps render'd more conspicuous, than they would wise be, by the well-known Oddities of another Man's Temper. It is not easy to discover what French intend; some talk of their fortifying Do-buff, and others imagine that they will transfer Head Quarters to Ingoldstadt. It is strongly seed, that his Imperial Majesty will increase the Mi-throughout all his Hereditary Dominions, in order ve on Foot an Army of 40,000 Men in the Spring; h is a Measure not to be accounted for any other than by supposing the French are to retire from e before that Time. It is now looked upon as a out of doubt, that Marshal Broglio was restrained fighting after the raising the Siege of Braunau; but thought that M. Seckendorff will not easily forget concealing those Orders, which cost him some Huns of brave Men. The Officers of M. Belleisle's es make a very bad Figure here, and it is thought e Constitutions are so ruin'd by what they have gone ough, that not One in Five will ever recover.

Petersburgh, Jan. 21. The last Letters from Weiffel that the Magazines there are transporting with the utmost Diligence into the Austrian Netherlands; whence we conjectured that a Body of Prussian Troops will march thither. Our Letters from Petersburg inform, that the Czarina arrived there the 30th of last Month, and that immediately she gave Orders for summoning a General Assembly of the Nobility of the Empire, that they may swear Fidelity to his Imperial Highness the Grand Duke, and concert proper Ways for settling the Succession according to the present Settlement. All our Letters from Bavaria affirm, That the French are on the Point of quitting that Electorate, in order to march into Alsace; where, it is thought, their assistance will be more than ordinarily necessary in the Campaign.

Aug. 7. Jan. 29. The Marquis de Fenelon seems to be more uneasy of late than ever. He pretends to have discovered strange Things here, and it is said will very soon publish an extraordinary Piece in relation to the Rights of the Queen of Hungary and her Auxiliaries; whether it will appear in his own Name, or come forth as the Sentiments of a Friend of his at Dort, is at Time will discover. We are still pretty confident that 20,000 Men will march into the Low-Countries for the Service of the Queen of Hungary; and that their High Mightinesses will accede to the Alliance lately concluded between his Britannick Majesty and the King of Prussia, as soon as the Nature of their Government will admit. The Auxiliary Forces in Flanders are in full march; and it is not doubted but that in two Months the Face of Affairs in Europe will change as much as it did two Years ago, when the Partizans of a certain Court threatened to give Law to all their Neighbours.

From the London Gazette.

Naples, Dec. 18. We have Advice from Tunis, by Way Messina, that the Peace between France and that Government was actually signed, and all Hostilities ceased, and that a Treaty of Peace and Commerce was negotiating, and in a Manner concluded, between Tunis and Naples, upon the same Foot with that of France, and as had been done some time ago at Tripoli, from whence an Envoy has been sent to this Court, who had this Morning his publick Audience of his Sicilian Majesty, Florence, Jan. 19. On the 9th M. de Braitwitz, attended by M. du Chatelet, &c. set out hence on a Tour to reconnoitre the Passages on the Confines of the Bolognese, as well as those toward the Pistoiese, in order to make the necessary Dispositions for the Security of this State. The Body of Tuscan Troops continue at Prato, as does a large Detachment of a Militia Regiment at Pistoia. There are no Motions in the Army in Lombardy: The Spaniards continue in their Winter-Quarters in the Bolognese, and the Austrians and Sardinians in their Posts near the Borders of the Panaro. The Spaniards are very much harrassed by the Hussars, who often carry off small Booties.

Geneva, Jan. 18. Since the King of Sardinia retired into the Piedmont with his Army, the Prince Don Philip has taken up his Residence at Chamberry, and has distributed his Army into different Quarters. There are an hundred Horse at St. Julian's, a Town two Leagues from hence, eight hundred and fifty at Annecy, four hundred at Thoun, two hundred at Faverges, and two hundred at Mura; four Companies of Foot at Bernen and Confignon, four at Viry, twenty at Annecy, and forty-four in the Genevois. These together make seventy-two Companies of Infantry, which are within a small Distance of this Town. It is reported also, that a fresh Supply is coming to the Spaniards. They have prohibited the Exportation of Corn out of Savoy, which has greatly raised the Price of it in this Town.

Dresden, Jan. 22. It is written from Francfort, that Marshal Belleisle's Army is to return to be recruited in France; and from Prague, that Prince Lobkowitz leaves that Capital To-day with his Troops for the Upper Palatinate. General Fesfetzitz is to blockade Egra, where the Mortality continues.

Paris, Jan. 30. Yesterday at Noon died at Issy, his Eminence the Cardinal Fleury.

Brussels, Jan. 30. The Three Regiments of Colonel Bligh, Colonel Johnson, and Brigadier Ponsonby, being ordered to Mons, Aeth and Charleroy, they have now all left Bruges, and marched out from thence in exceeding good Order, and the Men in high Spirits. They are commanded by Brigadier Ponsonby. Bligh's arrived Yesterday at Anderlecht, halts there this Day, and proceeds To-morrow to Braine le Comte, about Five Leagues off, and the next Day to Mons. Johnson's will be To-morrow at Anderlecht, and will be followed immediately by Ponsonby's. The Hanoverian Troops begin their March, as we hear, towards the Rhine, on the 4th of next Month, N. S.
